

Schumacher Elevator Company Celebrates 90 Years of Service, Innovation, and Commitment to Safety

Schumacher Elevator Company proudly marks its 90th anniversary this year, celebrating nine decades of delivering reliable vertical transportation solutions, building lasting customer relationships, and advancing safety and innovation across the communities it serves.

Founded in 1936, Schumacher Elevator has grown from a regional service provider into a trusted national industry partner known for integrity, craftsmanship, and customer-first service. Over the past ninety years, the company has navigated economic shifts, technological advancements, and evolving industry standards while remaining steadfast in its mission to move people safely and efficiently.

“Reaching 90 years in business is an extraordinary milestone,” said Jeff Schumacher of Schumacher Elevator Company. “It reflects the dedication of our employees, the loyalty of our customers, and the strength of the relationships we’ve built over now five generations. We are proud of our history and even more excited about what lies ahead.”

Throughout its history, Schumacher Elevator has consistently invested in emerging technologies to meet the evolving needs of building owners and occupants. From routine maintenance and modernization projects to complex installations, the company remains grounded in its commitment to safety, accountability, teamwork, and the communities it proudly serves.

In celebration of the anniversary, Schumacher Elevator will host a summer open house at its Denver, Iowa headquarters, inviting customers, partners, employees, retirees, and community members to tour the facility, connect with company leaders, and reflect on the organization’s rich history while looking ahead to its next chapter. Additional details about the event will be announced in the coming months.

The anniversary also serves as an opportunity to recognize generations of employees who have helped shape the organization. “Our people are the heart of Schumacher,” added Jeff Schumacher. “Their expertise, professionalism, and commitment to doing the right thing—every time—are what set us apart.”

As it looks to the future, Schumacher Elevator Company remains committed to innovation, investing in its people, and delivering dependable service for decades to come.
